

Calculate Labor Costs, in a Snap

Crowe™ Wage Index Navigator

Simplify the Process of Calculating Wage Data for Medicare Reimbursement

The cost of labor at a healthcare organization is a major driver of Medicare reimbursement. Yet hospital finance and reimbursement groups rarely have enough time or the specialized expertise to assemble and report complete and accurate wage data.

To simplify this process, Crowe has developed Crowe Wage Index Navigator (Crowe WIN), a secure Web-based application that guides users to input, compile, and report wage and occupational mix information.

Crowe WIN is intuitive and easy to use. Benefits include:

- Directing you through the process step by step and utilizing checks and balances to submit accurate data and provide consistent and complete reporting
- Producing supporting documentation that can be uploaded for submission and stored for future reference
- Providing you with secure Web-based access that requires no software installation, data storage, or IT support
- Creating dashboards that enable you to stay on top of wage index projects and related deadlines
