Professional Summary

- Aaron Goldstein joined Crowe Soberman in 2010 and is a Partner in the firm's Audit & Advisory Group. From his time in public practice, he learned the components of business: administration, management, financing and revenue. He is familiar with the challenges entrepreneurs face; and working with them, he is able to see clients overcome setbacks and reach their goals.

Experience

- Overseeing several assurance and compilation engagements, Aaron has insight into a number of areas. Since starting his career in 2008, he has been exposed to a wide range of industries. His experience involves working with clients in real estate and construction, retail, information and technology, professional services, not-for-profit, among several others. Aaron works frequently in the cloud accounting space, supporting businesses in their journey to increase efficiency, streamline their digital accounting processes and maintain a clear view of targets. Using his diverse skill set, he has helped many business owners and professionals improve their financial conditions.
- Aaron is a trusted advisor to many of his clients, who value his ability to provide insights and meet reporting deadlines. As a problem solver, he works collaboratively with each client to discuss and resolve the challenges they face by offering creative solutions. He truly enjoys building quality relationships with his clients and helping them to make better decisions.
- Aaron has extensive knowledge of Canadian Accounting Standards for Private Enterprises (ASPE), International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and the Income Tax Act.
- A Wilfred Laurier University alumnus, Aaron graduated with an honours bachelor's degree in Business Administration. He now holds a Chartered Professional Accountant designation, which he attained in 2011.
- Aaron is a movie buff and an avid traveler who also enjoys spending time with his family and friends.
