Professional Summary

- Dennis Reynolds is a Manager in the Tax Group at Crowe Soberman. He first joined the firm as a tax co-op in 2019 and started full-time as a tax specialist in 2021.

Experience

- Dennis works with a wide range of corporate clients and regularly advises on matters such as cross-border taxation, mergers and acquisitions, and SR&ED, among others. He works frequently with companies that are new to the Canadian tax system and enjoys working directly with clients to provide advice and guidance on Canadian tax compliance matters.
- Dennis also has experience in personal tax compliance for high net-worth individuals, with a specialty in tax residency matters. He regularly provides tax planning advice to high net-worth individuals who are contemplating a departure from Canada, or individuals who have recently immigrated to Canada and are new to the Canadian tax system.
- He is a member of the firm's Sports and Entertainment team where he enjoys advising on tax planning strategies for both Canadian and non-resident professional athletes. Dennis also regularly works with international musicians and entertainers and enjoys ensuring that these clients are fully compliant with the Canadian tax system when performing in Canada.
- A frequent contributor to the firm's website, Dennis has written such articles as "Determining Residency" and "Purchasing Real Estate in Canada?"
