Legal and Constitutional Structure

Crowe Horwath International is an international network of independently owned and managed accounting and advisory firms that may be licensed to use the “Crowe,” “Crowe Horwath” or “Horwath” brand in connection with the provision of accounting, auditing, tax, advisory and other professional services to their clients.

Crowe Horwath International is commercially organized under the laws of Switzerland as a Verein (Association) and is a non-practicing entity, and does not provide professional services in its own right. Crowe Horwath International is wholly owned by its member firms. Crowe Horwath International operates through a wholly-owned subsidiary incorporated under the laws of the State of New York in the United States of America where it is headquartered.

Crowe Horwath International is considered a “network” as defined under the Code of Ethics of the International Ethics Standards Board of Accountants (IESBA) and by virtue of its membership of the Forum of Firms.

Leadership, Governance and Management

The Board of Directors (“Board”) is responsible for the governance of Crowe Horwath International. The Board is charged with overseeing the activities of the network, including setting strategy and policy. With the exception of the Chief Executive Officer, the Board is made up of individuals representing member firms in Crowe Horwath International.

The Management Committee operates according to the responsibilities and authority that is delegated to it by the Board and oversees the daily management of the network’s operations. It consists of the Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operating Officer, the network’s regional executives, International Accounting & Audit Director and the International Tax Director.

A Member of the Forum of Firms

Crowe Horwath International is a full member of the Forum of Firms. The Forum of Firms is an association of networks of international accounting firms that perform transnational audits. The objective of the Forum is to promote consistent and high quality standards of financial reporting and auditing practices worldwide. As a member, Crowe Horwath International is required to implement and monitor quality control standards that the Forum has prepared. We prepare an annual declaration that our members adhere to the Forum's standards.

The Transnational Auditors Committee of the International Federation of Accountants governs the Forum of Firms. The International Accounting & Audit Director of Crowe Horwath is an elected member of the Committee.

Membership Standards

Crowe Horwath International Membership Standards

The vision of Crowe Horwath International is to create a global network of firms embracing a common brand recognized by national and multinational organizations as essential to their need for audit, tax and advisory services. Achieving our vision of becoming the premier network is directly dependent on Crowe Horwath International's ability to attract and/or develop dynamic and high-quality member firms with top 10 ranking in their jurisdictions.

Having the right firms in the right markets is a critical success factor in achieving our vision. This would implicitly mean that firms should commit resources and deliver a timely and quality service to international businesses. It is expected that firms should invest in the future for growth, robust quality standards, and methodologies to build the profile of Crowe Horwath International in their jurisdictions.

Membership Standards (cont'd.)

The following represents criteria for membership to which we benchmark potential new firms and evaluate existing firms:

Professional registration and recognition

Commitment to a common brand

Civic operation

Commitment to growth

Participation in Crowe Horwath International events

Commitment to Crowe Horwath International

Market influence

Cross border business

Compliance with Crowe Horwath International regulations and standards

Financial strength

Leadership and succession plan

Delivering high quality professional services

Client Service Standards

Crowe Horwath International members are committed to providing an exceptional and consistent client service experience. Our client service standards are:

We Understand

Having a thorough understanding of the client's business, current situation, needs, and expectations such that there should be no surprises.

We Communicate

Communication before, during, and after an engagement—open and consistent communication at the right time to the right people.

We Collaborate

Collaborating across Crowe Horwath to bring together the right experts to meet the client's needs.

We Deliver

Delivering what we promise and addressing issues that arise—on time, on budget and with the highest quality.

Independence Standards

Member firms of Crowe Horwath International should have policies and methodologies that allow them to perform audit services in conformity with applicable national ethics and independence standards. Member firms should have policies and methodologies for the conduct of transnational audit engagements that conform, to the extent practicable and applicable, and subject to national interpretation and application, to the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("the Code"), as well as applicable national codes of ethics.

Individual Crowe Horwath International member firms should be independent of the audit clients of other member firms.

Crowe Horwath International provides support to member firms in complying with the international Code's independence provisions.

Crowe Horwath International

Audit Methodology

Crowe Horwath International has an audit methodology that complies with the International Standards on Auditing issued by the International Audit & Assurance Standards Board. Members of Crowe Horwath International are expected to apply this methodology on all international audit engagements.

Audit Practice Review

Rigorous review procedures are required to ensure that practice and quality standards are adhered to by member firms delivering audit services. Crowe Horwath International has an established

Quality Assurance Review (“QAR”) process led by the International Accounting & Audit Director. All member firms receive periodic reviews of their audit practice. The International Accounting & Audit Director selects reviewers from partners of member firms and the network’s accounting and audit professionals. Reviews are performed using an approach that reflects global best practice.

Annually 30 to 40 reviews are performed on member firms as well as firms applying to join Crowe Horwath International. The review is an opportunity to share experiences, best practices, and the application of professional standards. Each firm then receives an individual report letter, including actions from the review being agreed on.

Presentations about the overall results of QARs and suggestions for the improvement of audit quality are regularly given at members’ meetings.

Learning and Development

The International Accounting & Audit Director of Crowe Horwath International facilitates the organization of a global program of professional education for member firms. This program covers training and support in International Financial Reporting Standards, International Standards on Auditing and the International Code of Ethics. Events are held throughout the year, in all regions. Distinguished external guest speakers, from international and national regulatory, standard setting and professional bodies regularly contribute to the program.

In addition, members have access to professional support materials including manuals and guides, and recorded presentations, to assist them with the application of global professional standards. Members receive regular newsletters updating them about developments in regulation and standards.
