Experience

- C Yuen started his professional career at the Hong Kong Inland Revenue Department. Before commencing his professional practice in the early eighties, he was the tax manager of one of the big international accounting firms. He returned from New Zealand in 1998 after staying there for a few years. He then joined CCIF CPA Limited. Following the merger of the firm in 2010, he became our Director. He is now our principal advisor.
- During the years of his professional life, his main interests are tax (local and international), trusts and corporate advisory services. He is currently heavily involved in wealth and business succession planning, wealth protection planning, tax and business advisory services. He was the co-author of a book on tax savings entitled "Save as Your Earn" published in 1990.
